

Quattro Goomba's Winery Releases Its 2006 Vintage

Friday August 31, 2007 8:00am
For Immediate Release

Virginia's First Micro Urban Winery

(South Riding, Virginia) Quattro Goomba's Winery, the state's first micro urban winery proudly announce the premier release of its 2006 wines from its winery located in South Riding Virginia.

To celebrate the release of the winery's premium red wines, WineStyles and Diego and Son Distributors is hosting a tasting of three high-quality blends on Sunday, September 16 from 1:00-4:00pm at their South Riding location. WineStyles is located at 25031 Riding Plaza, South Riding, in the Riding Center plaza at the intersection of Loudoun County Parkway and Rte 50.

Quattro Goomba's Winery is a unique micro urban winery that produces Mediterranean Style Wine of the highest quality. We incorporate traditional old world methods passed on by our ancestors over many generations, producing artisan wines that are distinctive and expertly hand-crafted in limited quantities. Quattro Goomba's is Italian for 4 close friends and defines the heart of our business. The Quattro Goomba Brand represents our passion for friendship, family, celebration, and tradition. Our original winemaking process revolves around sourcing grapes from the top growing regions from around the world. Quattro Goomba's Winery produces exceptional blends and varietals in the ultra premium and luxury class.

Quattro Goomba's Winery offers a range of high quality red wines for every taste. The winery's 2006 selections are all proprietary blends and are named as follows: 1) Vino Di Nonni, or "Grandfather's Wine", a light bodied, fruity red wine that is refreshing and easy to drink, 2) Vino Di San Pietro a medium-bodied dry red wine with a smooth clean finish and 3) Quattro Goomba's signature brand, Vino D'Ana, a full-bodied red wine that is a classic blend of Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot.

In addition to sampling these fine selections, you will have a chance to meet the Quattro Goomba's winemaker - David Gaetani along with co-owners Jay DeCianno and David Camden. All will be on hand to personally describe the unique winemaking practices that yield these truly incredible blends. Don't miss this exciting event.

"We are very excited to finally be able to share our wines with the general public and are extremely grateful to WineStyles and Diego and Son Distributors for giving us the opportunity to do so," said David Gaetani, the company's chief winemaker. "In the midst of an increasingly crowded wine market, we believe that the Quattro Goomba brand will bring something truly unique to the consumer and the wine industry as a whole. Our urban winery model is just one way we plan to differentiate ourselves from traditional farm wineries. Another example of how we differentiate ourselves from the competition is with our proprietary blends. For example, our Vino Di Nonni blend is a company trade secret and is only commercially available through Quattro Goomba's Winery. In the spring of 2008, we will be open to the public and will be celebrating the grand opening of our new winery production facility with a tasting room that will be unlike anything you've ever seen at a traditional vineyard based winery. Our grand opening will coincide with the release of our 2007 vintage made from high quality grapes sourced from a world class viticultural region in the southern hemisphere".
